

SATURDAY, OCT. 10, 1858, 1 A. M.

Reading Matter on First Page.

ONCE UPON A TIME—Once upon a time beyond the borders of our master's realm, or in the neighborhood of the city, may be applied with the journal, when taken from our office, at $8 per annum; $8 for half sheet or country daily, and $2 weekly. Our friends will be pleased to note that every one must call for letters or papers, will involve no additional trouble in calling at our office, and by doing they can take the Journal and post it up on all the occurrences of the day. We have however seen it arranged in what we consider the papers to be in their best style.

THE RECENTMENT of John Kinn & Co. They have one of the finest selections of watches and chains in the city. Mr. Kinn, the senior partner of this concern, deserves a large portion of his time in his branch of their business, and purchasers may prefer getting the very best article for the money than can be afforded.

BOSTON.—A man of skill attention to the affairs with this option in another column. To any one in need of services of a competent and reliable man a rare opportunity is now presented. Unquestionable reference will be furnished.

THE Olympic Ball will play their weekly game of Wicket on Saturday, October 10th, at 5 o'clock, on the common beyond Kentucky and Fifth streets.

See first page for proceedings of Board of Aldermen.

REAGAN NOTES.—Rev. G. W. Studley will commence a series of sermons on "Nationalism," in the Second Chapel, on Monday, the 15th, at 7 P. M., to assist in the preparation of the "Free Speech," the "Fog," etc., and at 7 P. M. he will preach his annual sermon in young man's Free seat.

We have received from Mr. Ward, wholesale dealer in manufactured tobacco on Third street, a sample of J. L. Clayton's extra gold leaf, which is a superior article.

MR. RICE, Wm. of Cincinnati, will deliver a discourse on "The Slave Trade," on Fourth street, at 9 o'clock this morning, in English at the same place at half past 6 o'clock in the evening.

PROF. COLLIER.—Those who desire to hear a scientific exposition of the powers and mechanism of the human voice, should attend Prof. Collier's lecture this evening, in the hall of the Building of Science, at 8 P. M. Price, 50 cents.

THE FRENCH.—Those who desire to speak, as far as those who desire to sing, and those founded in natural philosophical principles it is easy to comprehend how.

The game season is about commencing, and we are called upon to make our arrangements accordingly. The 8th of October, we display in under a tempting show of vanity, quail, pheasant, blue wings, salmon, and eel, to say nothing of luscious oysters in the shell.

MR. SPEECHER will arrive at 8 o'clock on the previous, or long credit, one of the most singular pieces of property ever before offered at auction in this city, a fine two-story brick house, opposite Arthur Street & C. parkhouse. This house should command the attention of capitalists, now advanced.

ANOTHER PHONOCOPE.—M. Léon, evening an aged German named Kotter, or Kotler, who resides at Marshall street opposite Campbell, has a fine edge in the address of his wife, that her son, M. Léon, is now 18 years old.

The son is believed to be well educated.

THE pair are addicted to liquor, and were under the influence when the deed was committed. A victim availed himself.

THEATRE.—Mr. Sean Fahey will appear this evening as Lear, and the romantic drama of the Fairy Tales will be repeated.

THE CIRCUS.—We shall make no change in our arrangements for the present, yesterday, after the game, reported in our paper, but hope to furnish a carnival in Indiana as far right as we have given it, in Pennsylvania, and there are a few doubtful districts.

THE home game of the match between the Louisville and Eclipse Club was not concluded yesterday, owing to the length of the hour at which the game was to be played.

The remaining four will be played sometime during the coming week, of which due notice will be given. A very large crowd of visitors were present among them.

THEATRE.—Mr. Sean Fahey will appear this evening as Lear, and the romantic drama of the Fairy Tales will be repeated.

THE alarm of fire about noon yesterday was occasioned by the burning of a stable, corner of Second and Gray streets. Damage slight.

THE ladies are specially invited to call at Blaum Hall, south room, this morning (Saturday) and inspect the new and elegant models of oil paintings, which will be shown Monday evening at 10 o'clock. Mr. S. H. Hussey will officiate as auctioneer.

OUR friend, Mr. H. H. Underly, superintendent of the city hospital, arrived from St. Louis last night, and was favored by him with papers from the city of yesterday morning.

TASSAW.—(An crop of four kinds of tobacco is raised, raised by John Hightower, of Larue, was sold at $1.00 per pound, and the price of the proprietors, Spratt, Harpe, & Co., yesterday. One had brought $16.00, one $11.75, and one $10.50, and the whole realized the handsome sum of $659.75. They were bought by W. Barge and James T. Edwards, of two of our largest manufacturers.)

The quality of the tobacco was fair, and, had it not been raised so hard, would undoubtedly have brought a still higher price.

It is the opinion of this paper that, had their interests not been killing the tobacco by the hand, they would do so. What they have by the process in the expense of hogheads, freight charges, &c., is not a farthing compared to the loss they sustain in the sale of the tobacco.

Our tobacco manufacturers will be anxious for tobacco when it comes, and put up, as if the leaf was put together so that it might be separated.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

He also had a horse at the mouth of the river, which will not interfere with the navigation when the Old Woman is a higher stage.

ANOTHER INSTANCE OF THE HORSES BEING KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Paducah Standard, in its issue of Sept. 16th, 1858, has been late, and the paper is not yet received. Col. Marshall, the superintendent on Green river, who states that all the repairs necessary to the horses have been completed, and the horses are in good condition, will be anxious for tobacco when it comes, and put up, as if the leaf was put together so that it might be separated.

THE ALLEGED KIDNAPING OF JOHN KELLY.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev. Samuel Parker, of Larue, was killed by a hawk, while walking in the woods near his residence, on Friday, Oct. 6th, 1858. Some weeks since, being severely afflicated with a severe attack of rheumatism, he had lost his strength, and was unable to walk, and was compelled to remain at home.

He was a man of great piety, and had been a member of the Methodist church for many years.

He was buried in the cemetery of the Methodist church, between Brown and Floyd, who was engaged in the hills, because, and for that purpose, keeps several cows. One of these animals died the other day, and, to make the loss as light to his heart, as is possible, he packed the carcass in a barrel, and sent it to the up the river, to be buried in the ground.

CLERGOMY KILLED BY A BIRD.—The Rev.

